PG&E Cuts Gas, Electric Rates in 1524 Homes by $15,591

Approximately 1524 homes served by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company will be spared some $15,591 in gas and electric bills over the next year, according to an order issued by the California Public Utilities Commission.

The PG&E will now serve many homes which were classified as rural with gas and electricity based on urban rates

A PG&E SPOKESMAN informed The Sun that the rates are based primarily on "density of population per line mile"

Many of the homes under the new classification will benefit by the rate reduction in both electrical bills and gas bills. Some homes will be effected by decreases in just gas or just electricity.

"Persons receiving the reduction in rates will not be notified of the reduction in their statements, but I'm quite sure they will notice it in their monthly bills," Ben Turnbull, chief of the PG&E News Bureau, said.

SOME FARMERS will be effected by the rate cuts, but as a general rule it will be only those persons who live on the fringe areas of heavily populated areas such as Concord, Pleasant Hill, Walnut Creek, Lafayette and Orinda.

The PG&E did not have, at press time, a schedule of rate comparrisons for the central county area.

The rate reductions and the annual savings for customers of the PG&E for gas and electricity are as follows:

ORINDA: Special rate area has been enlarged to include 149 additional electric users and 146 gas customers. Yearly savings will be $1931 for electricity and $1279 for gas.

LAFAYETTE: Special rate area has been enlarged to include 90 electrical users who will realize gross saving of $1160 and 86 natural gas users who will realize $793 saving.

SARANAP: Special rate area has been enlarged to include 47 customers saving $609 and 47 gas users saving $412.

PLEASANT HILL: Suburban special rate district now includes 184 electrical customers who will save $2937 and 169 gas customers who will benefit from $1480 in savings.

WALNUT CREEK: No changes for electrical users, but 345 gas users will receive $828 in savings.

CONCORD: Special rate area will include 101 customers who will save $1612 in electrical bills over the next year and 169 gas consumers who will save $1980.

The new rates will go into effect as soon as individual bills are tabulated by the utility.

Acalanes Tax Increase Vote Fails

Sun Candidates Night Set May 26 at Acalanes

Voters will have the opportunity to scrutinize political candidates at Acalanes Candidates' Night, sponsored by The Sun, beginning at 8 p.m. May 26 at Acalanes High School.

Seats for more than 500 persons, plus bleacher facilities, will be provided and all who attend the program will have the opportunity to hear candidates for county offices, state and congressional posts, superior court, the Walnut Creek judicial district, sheriff, and district attorney.

There will be a timekeeper, provided by the Mt. Diablo Toastmasters' Club, who will be equipped with a loud buzzer to insure that no candidate exceeds his allotted time at the microphone.

Why not plan to make it a family affair. The evening will provide a good opportunity for the youngsters to see our democratic and governmental processes in action.

And it will be a fine opportunity for adult members of the family to acquaint themselves with issues at stake in order to vote more intelligently on election day.

It is expected that the discussions and speeches will last from about 8 p.m. until 10:45.

Keep your eyes on The Sun for further details. Information will appear periodically until the traditional Sun Candidates' Night will be held at Acalanes High School on May 26.

County Education Board Asked To Probe Bus Uses

The Contra Costa County Board of Education has been asked by the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors to set up a committee to investigate the possibility of centralizing all school bus operations.

The action was taken by Desmond Teeter, county adminstrator, after the supervisors met with Contra Costa delegates to the Bay Area Rapid Transit Commission.

Harry Morrison, a delegate, charged that bus costs in Contra Costa are too high because of the "door to door service demanded by parents for children."

He suggested, as did the supervisors, that steps be taken to provide more walkways for children so that bus transportation will not be necessary.

Overpasses for pedestrians were suggested over busy highways as a safety measure by Morrison.

Dear Mom, How About Dropping Us a Few Words

"Dear Mom,

We received your kind letter just in time for Valentine's Day. However, we don't the letter or the enclosure. Please drop us a line wherever you are."

The above was an open letter which the Orinda Post Office was framing this week in hopes that "Mom" could be located so that she could claim a letter the Portland, Ore. Post Office is holding in its dead letter office.

The story is this: "Mom" sent a considerate Valentine addressed simply to "The Vaughts, 1428-21 No. Seattle." The letter, somehow or other, wound up in Portland and eventually was channeled to the dead letter office there. Postal officials opened the letter and found a cash enclosure. The card was signed, simply, "Mom."

So, Mom, please let the Orinda Postmaster know who you are. He knows you're around because you mailed the card there on Valentine's Day. He's holding the card and the cash for you. And by now the Vaughts may need the money.

Orinda Assn. Board Cancels Week's Meeting

Inclement weather, previous committments, and personal business on the part of members resulted in the cancellation of Monday evening's meeting of the Orinda Association Board of Directors.

Because only four of the nine members of the board were able to attend the session a quorem was not present and the meeting was called off.

Grove Street Freeway Plan Considered

The California Highway Commission took under consideration today the adoption of a routing for a freeway in Alameda and Contra Costa counties between the Eastshore Freeway in Oakland and slightly east of the east portal of the Broadway Tunnel on Mt. Diablo Boulevard, including an additional two lane bore through the Broadway tunnel.

The commission announced that it would hold a public hearing on the matter in the Oakland Technical High School Auditorium on Tuesday, March 25, at 10 a.m.

The project has been referred to locally as the "Grove-Shafter Freeway."

STATE HIGHWAY Engineer G. T. McCoy recommended a route approximately six and one-half miles in length which runs northerly from the Eastshore Freeway between Brush Street and Castro Street.

The recommended route then continues northerly, east of and generally parallel with Grove Street to 51st Street, where it swings easterly, crossing Shattuck Avenue near 53 rd Street and Telegraph Avenue near 56th Street, and runs between Shafter Avenue and Keith Avenue from College Avenue to the vicinity of Broadway.

The recommended route then runs just north of and parallel with Broadway to Tunnel Road. From there it follows generally present Sign Route 24 to one quarter mile beyond the east portal of Broadway Tunnel.

McCoy told the commission that a total of 10 alternate routes or combinations of alternates were studied in the search for the best possible route to serve the area and its traffic.

FOLLOWING numerous preliminary meetings with public officials and interested civic groups, a public meeting was held in Oakland on December 19, 1956, at which several possible routes were discussed.

After further engineering review, a second public meeting was held in Oakland on September 18, 1957, at which all alternates were discussed.

Plans of the Division of Highways call for development of the Grove-Shafter Freeway on the basis of an ultimate eight-lane freeway. Estimated cost of freeway construction between 17th Street and the end of the east portal of the Broadway Tunnel is $59,200,000, including the cost of an additional two-lane bore for the Broadway Tunnel and improvement of Brush and Castro Streets as a one-way couplet between 17th Street and the Eastshore Freeway.

Rains, Winds, Blackouts Plague Central Contra Costa Residents

High winds and driving rains caused considerable damage to Central Contra Costa County early this week.

At least a half dozen homes were partly flooded and several slides caused lanes to be closed on several key links in the central county highway network.

GREGORY GARDENS got its share of flood waters, but most of the excess was carried off by Grayson Creek. A few homes suffered mud and silt damage, according to the Contra Costa Sheriff's office.

There was a danger of flooding in the Cherry Lane and Walden areas, but no serious damage was reported.

The Contra Costa County Flood District reported that if it would have rained for another hour Monday Walnut Creek would have overflowed its banks. It crested about three inches short of its banks, the report said.

The worst danger was in the Marsh Creek area where the creek overflowed and roared through the lowland pastures, Joe Taylor, flood control official commented.

THE COUNTY took steps to take care of the roadway slides almost as quickly as they occured, Victor Sauer, public works director said.

Soil engineers have been hired to study soil stability on five county highways damaged by slides during the heavy storm runoff.

The firm, Woodward, Clyde and Associates of Oakland, started seeking the cause and means of stopping shifting hillsides that have damaged Cummings Skyway south of Crockett, San Pablo Dam Road north of Orinda, Rheem Boulevard and Edgewood Drive, near Moraga, and Hillcrest Road in El Sobrante.

Most serious are two slides on Cummings Skyway, leading from Highway 4 to Crockett. Sauer said the highway will be closed for a month. More than 3,000 passenger cars and 1,000 trucks use the route daily, Sauer said.

SAUER SAID the county is negotiating for additional right of way with the California and Hawaiian Sugar Refining Corp. He said the slide debris will be dumped into Edwards Canyon on the west side of the roadway and that the highway will probably be realigned on top of the new fill and away from the shifting slope.

Not only did the central area have floods to worry about, but Monday evening many homes were without electrical power and most dinners were postponed "because of rain."

At least 300 Pacific Gas and Electric Company employees were out in the rain and wind trying to restore electrical service.

HARDEST HIT areas were Lafayette and Pleasant Hill with some sections of Walnut Creek also suffering from the blackout.

Power was off in some area from 4:30 until midnight.

Cause of the blackout was laid to soaked ground loosened power poles and trees and highwinds caused them to fall. Some lines with voltages as high as 60,000 were out for several hours.

Public works officials have placed damage costs "more or less $200,000." Average winter damage to roads is approximately $75,000.

Orindans Get More Rainfall

Mrs. Groennings remains chairman of the organization which oversees the high school student exchange program with other countries.

Developer Mum on Pine Grove Plans

Edward Martin, president of the investment company which recently purchased the controversial Pine Grove site, this week declined to comment on his plans for developing the 10.9 acre plot as a site for administrative offices.

Martin heads the Associated Investment Company, Oakland, which purchased the Pine Grove site two weeks for a reported $375,000.

Queried as to whether his firm planned to parcel off the land and sell it to builders or to do the actual construction on the land, Martin said the firm's plans were still in the formative stages.

However, it is considered a strong possibility that the investment firm will undertake the construction on the land. Martin is also affiliated with an Oakland contracting firm.

Martin said that thus far the firm has only had a topographical model of the land built. "Right now," he said, "we are studying the land for the layout of roads and streets."

Martin stated that newspaper reports were erroneous which stated that the firm would begin excavating for sewers and water within 90 days.

He said that as present his firm is still considering how the land may be best utilized. "We have spoken to several people," he said, "who may be prospective tenants. But for the time being, I'd prefer not to say much about it. I'd rather wait until our plans have jelled a little."

The Pine Grove site was rezoned for administrative offices, over the protests of the Orinda Association, in 1956. The Orinda Association also looked with disfavor several weeks ago over builder Douglas Manuel's plan to develop the Pine Grove into a $2 million apartment center. When this happened, Manuel abandoned his plans and sold the land to Martin's firm.

Rotary Hears Missile Talk

Commander H. M. Bashinski, deputy chief of staff for the area Naval Reserve, addressed the Orinda Rotary Club Wednesday in "Your Nuclear Navy—a Mobile Power for Peace."

Illustrating his talk with charts and graphs, Commander Bashinski spoke on the Navy's guided missile program, explaining that a mobile missile program is necessary for control of the seas.

"An enlightened public," he explained, "is one of the most important factors concerning the Navy's missile program."

Program chairman of the meeting was George Dodge. President Robeson Smith presided.

Next week's program will be a talk by David Huenergardt, organizing director of the Pavilion Theater in Walnut Creek.

50 Cent Boost Is Emphatically Licked at Polls

With Acalanes Union High School District voters having emphatically turned down a 50 cent boost in the maximum tax levy for the district in a district election the prevoius day, District Superintndent Neil M. Parsons commented Thursday that the matter will now be a subject of discussion and study by the governing board and supervisors.

However, Parsons denied that the governing board discussed the matter at its Wedensday night meeting.

"It was not on the agenda," Parsons said Thursday, "and there hasn't been any discussion on it thus far by board members."

In some other Bay Area newspapers Parsons was quoted as saying the board was expected to discuss the tax defeat Wednesday.

"They quoted me wrong," he said. "They asked me the same thing that you did—what the next step would be. I told them that the board would have to study it and discuss it. Then they asked me Wednesday when the next board meeting was and I told them 'tonight'."

With a turnout of about 25 per cent of the eligible voters, school district voters turned down the proposed hike by an unofficial vote of 3763 to 2755. Had the measure passed, maximum school district rate would have been increased from $1.75 per $100 assessed valuation to $2.25 per $100.

Regarding the 25 per cent turnout, Parsons termed the vote "not at all light—as a matter of fact fairly heavy for a school district election." He commented that the vote had been heavier than in past school district elections.

The proposed 50 cent tax hike had been the subject of considerable discussion and controversy preceding Thursday's election. Many civic and school organizations had gone on record as endorsing the proposal and public interest was high.

The measure was termed necessary to maintain the school district's educational standards in the face of increased enrollment.

Proponents of the tax increase said its failure to pass could mean crowded classrooms, less instructional facilities and possible curtailment of such items as bus service.

The increase was supported by a Parents Committee, the Acalanes Taxpayers Committee and numerous other groups.

Superintendent Parsons said he could not speculate on what action might be taken on the tax increase's defeat. Everything, he said, would hinge on future discussions of the matter by the governing board.

He noted that if the board so ruled another election could be ordered and the matter could be brought before the public again.

County Group Urges Diablo Highway Completion 'NOW'

Civic and County leaders overwhelmed state highway officals in Sacramento with the necessity of the allocation of emergency funds to complete the Diablo Freeway from Lafayette to Orinda immediatly.

The delegation, led by Supervisor Mel F. Nielsen of Lafayette, asked the commission to undertake the $4 million project "now."

However, the state highway commission answered flatly "NO FUNDS."

COMMISSIONER R. E. McClure told the delegation there weer no funds left for expanded work in the present budget and no hope of any in the 1958-59 budget.

Assemblyman Donald D. Doyle, (R-Lafayette) 10th District Assemblyman, said it was his understanding the project was already in the planning stages and would proceed next October.

"It should be sooner than that, if possible," Doyle urged.

Nielsen said:

"We know how important freeways are to us. We have fairs, festivals, and celebrations whenever a new link in our modern freeway system is added.

"There is, however, one link which we feel must be closed as soon as possible if the central area of our County is to be served properly. This is the section of freeway between Lafayette and Orinda. Every morning and every evening congestion and delay result on this short stretch of State Sign Route 75. It is a well-known fact that congestion and accidents cause heavy economic loss. Freeways are the answer.

"DURING THE year 1957, 48 accidents occurred on this stretch of roadway. Of these, one was a fatality, 17 involved personal injury, and 31 were property damage.

"Using the figures on accident costs compiled by the National Safety Foundation, which is, $27,400 per fatality, $1,250 per personal injury and $250 per property damage accidents, we find that the total cost in accidents alone is $56,400 per year.

"After construction of a freeway, a 75 per cent reduction in accidents can be expected. We, therefore, can expect a savings of approximately $42,000 per year to our community through the reduction of accidents.

"VOLUME COUNTS and speed and delay studies show that during each morning and evening peak hour, approximately 3,500 vehicles use this road. Further, these vehicles are delayed an average of five and one-half minutes each, or a total of 19,250 minutes per peak hour. A conservative cost figure of 2.6 cents per minute of delay develops a cost for the morning peak hour of $500 per day.

"Multiplying this by 200 working days and assuming the same delay during the evening peak hour, we arrive at a total economic loss of $200,000 per year due to accidents, we find that the yearly total economic loss to our community is $242,000. Using an interest figure of four per cent, an expenditure of $6,000,000 would show an annual return of $240,000.

"We have brought a number of exhibits pointing up the necessity for the earliest possible construction of this freeway link. We have here several photographs which were taken during the peak hours and the off peak hours, which clearly demonstrate the conditions existing at various times of the day. In addition to this, we have an artist's conception of just what causes some of this congestion.

"DURING THE morning peak hour, 2,250 eastbound vehicles are carried on the two lanes of freeway. The two-lane eastbound on-ramp from Lafayette adds 750 vehicles more during the same hour.

"To aggravate conditions, at the beginning of the long grade up to Charles Hill Road, these 3,000 vehicles are funneled into two lanes within a very short weaving distance. Another 500 vehicles are added at Upper Happy Valley Road at a right-angle intersection with no acceleration lane. From Upper Happy Valley Road to Charles Hill Road, only two lanes exist; a good deal of this stretch of highway has no shoulder.

"Slow-moving trucks and busses and left turns across the highway at Charles Hill Road are the cause for much of the delay.

"As spokesman for this group, I wish to point out that there is no minority report. We have come here as representatives of Contra Costa County to urge the alleviation OK congestion, to reduce accidents and insure the economic prosperity and growth of the area through the allocation of emergency funds to close this vital link in our freeway system.

"WE FEEL that perhaps accounting and administrative procedures would permit an immediate award of contract, considering such a contract to be a portion of our 1959 allocation. We are hopeful that there would be sufficient unexpended funds of 1958 projects to allow such procedure.

The Sun has long urged the completion of the Diablo Freeway and if this can not be done, urges that a third lane be temporarily installed to ease the rush hour commute problem.

Attending the Sacramento meeting were Vernon Patterson, Lafayette Chamber of Commerce attorney and representatives of improvement clubs, the Orinda Chamber of Commerce, Contra Costa Commuters Association, Diablo Highway Federation, and the County's State Legislators and County Public Works officials.

SF Opera Sets Medea Showing

"Medea", by Franco-Italian Luigi Cherubini, will be given its first U. S. stage presentation by the San Francisco Opera this fall, Kurt Herbert Adler, general director of the Company said today.

The title role will be sung by the leading American soprano Eileen Farrell who has been closely identified with the part since her success when the opera was premiered in concert form in New York two seasons ago. Miss Farrell made her San Francisco Opera debut as Leonora in "Il Trovatore" in 1956.

"Medea", based on a well-known Greek mythological episode, was written and first produced in Paris in 1797.

'Rural' Pools Must be Fenced by May 20, Unless..

Unincorporated area residents with swimming pools on their premises have until May 20 to erect a four and a half foot fence or wall around that pool, or face misdemeanor prosecution with the possibility of $500 fine or six months in the county jail, maximum penalties.

This is according to Ordinance No. 1196, passed by the board of supervisors on February 20.

Main purpose, the ordinance, states, is to eliminate "a severe harzard . . . to small children."

THE ORDINANCE, however, provides for several exceptions which may be granted by the Board of Adjustment, on application.

One exception is where the board of adjustment determines that, "under all of the circumstances and conditions affecting the pool, there is no hazard to small children from the omission of a fence."

Another exception is where the board finds that, vegetation, landscaping or topography suitable to protect the pool and to protect children from straying into the pool."

There is another exception which has four requirements, as follows:

1. THE LOT is not smaller than 20,000 square feet, not including any area within the lines of a public road.

2. The density of residential development with a radius of 250 feet surrounding the pool does not exceed one home per acre.

3. The pool is not within 300 feet of a public school, private school or public playground.

4. The pool is not within 55 feet of an inhabited dwelling on adjacent property.

THE ORDINANCE says the fencing requirement applies to pools, or "other out of doors body of water, designed, constructed and used for swimming, dipping or immersion purposes by men, women or children, having a depth in excess of 18 inches.

There are further requirements for the types of fence, and the types of gates. A dwelling house or accessory building may be used as part of the enclosure.

New pools must be constructed at designated distances from main buildings, auxiliary buildings, and side and rear lot lines, as prescribed in the ordinance.

The ordinance state sthat thre is an "unusually large number of privately owned swimming pools within the unincorporated area of the county . . . and the maintenance of these without adequate protective measures constitutes a severe hazard to the safety of the inhabitants and particularly to the small children . . ."

PH Civic Council Seeks Exit From Transit District

The Pleasant Hill Civic Council will seek the advice of the Attorney General of California and the Alameda - Contra Costa Transit District on how to vote itself out of the Alameda - Contra Costa Transit District, according to Bob Weiben, secretary of the civic council.

Delegates to the civic council were informed February 17 at Fair Oaks School that the "two county" district did not have too much interest in Central Contra Costa or its future and that it was possible that Pleasant Hill could call an election to seek exclusion.

OTTO STROBEL, chairman of the highway and transportation committee, presented Robert K. Barber, president of the two county district, at the January meeting of the council.

"After hearing Barber, it was obvious that the district plans very little, if anything at all, for Pleasant Hill or any of the residential areas of Contra Costa," Weiben said.

Barber did note at the January meeting, however, that the district is interested in Richmond and the industrial areas of Contra Costa's western portion.

"WE DON'T WANT any part of buying the Key System, so why should we pay," Weiben exclaimed.

"We might as well find out, if we still have a chance to get out," he continued.

At a 1956 meeting of the civic council, Don Doyle (R-Lafayette), 10th District District Assemblyman, and Robert Nesbit, now attorney-secretary of the transit district, informed the council that under the provisions of the law and after the district was established, a community could vote itself out.

The legality of the district is still under fire by the Contra Costa Transit Council which is seeking exclusion for all the unincorporated areas of the county and portions of Richmond and San Pablo.

The transit council has charged that all the ballots of the unincorporated areas were dumped together and counted together rather than as individual communities and that the Richmond and San Pablo absentee votes were counted with absentee ballots from other cities.

THE COUNCIL claims, in its suit, which has been switched to the Marin County Superior Court, that the absentee ballots could have made the difference in San Pablo and Richmond of whether these areas would have or would not have been in the transit district.

Meanwhile, the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors lashed out at the two county district's intention of buying out the Key System.

The two county district has asked the California Public Utilities Commission to set a fair price on the holdings of Key System so that the transit district may file condemnation proceedings against Key.

THE SUPERVISORS formally protested the plan to buy Key in a resolution which was passed unanimously by the board.

Harry Morrison, secretary-treasurer of the County Transit Council, appeared before the board and requested that the action be taken.

Morrison informed the supervisors that the county would receive no benefit from the district's operations, but would have to pay 40 per cent of the price.

At present, the district includes all of Alameda County and portions of Contra Costa County as war east as Clayton. The district includes all of the central and north central portion of the county (Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill, Concord, etc.).

MORRISON STATED that some 100 organizations are now committeed to fight the transit district and are planning action against the move to purchase Key System.

He noted that these organizations which include city councils, improvement associations, chambers of commerce, civic, fraternal, social and service clubs, will be asked to pass similar resolutions as the one forwarded by the board of supervisors.

'Part-Time' DA Criticized by Attorney Nejedly

John A. Nejedly, Walnut Creek city attorney and candidate for district attorney of Contra Costa County, said this week, "The county's taxpayers are paying unnecessary salaries to legal counsel and consultants because the incumbent district attorney, Francis W. Collins, spends much of his time in private law practice instead of in the performance of the county duties for which he was elected."

Nejedly referred to criticism of the present district attorney's office by the Contra Costa Grand Jury, which recommended in its final report last June that the "district attorney of Contra Costa County give up private practice and become a full-time employee."

Nejedly proposed to "cut down the county's payroll by becoming a full-time district attorney, available to serve as personal legal advisor to the Board of Supervisors and to other public commissions of the county, such as the Planning Commission and the Contra Costa Flood Control and Soil Conservation District."

JOHN NEJEDLY

He said, "Contra Costa taxpayers should elect a full-time, full-salaried district attorney, who in turn should select full-time deputies. However, in present practice, we have a part-time district attorney and part-time deputies, all of who maintain private practices.

"As a result various county commissions are hard-pressed to find adequate legal counsel, and consequently they often hire their own. This, to my mind, constitutes waste, and I propose to eliminate it."

Nejedly, 43, served as deputy district attorney in Richmond from 1946 to 1950.

During World War II he served in the South Pacific and Asiatic theaters as a Japanese language officer with the Army Air Corps' Air Intelligence Service.

Born in Oakland, where his father was a construction worker for the Southern Pacific Railroad, Nejedly graduated in 1941 from the University of California's Boalt Hall of Law.

Board Will Rule on Books Given Library

After spending more than hour hearing the pros and cons of the issue, the board of supervisors this week ruled in favor of County Librarian Bertha Hellum and agreed that gift anti-fluoridation literature should not be given permanent space in the county library.

Though books offered by Mrs. Fred R. Brown of Orinda may be available to interested parties through the central library offices, the books cannot be promised a permanent place on the limited shelves of the library, the supervisors ruled.

Attorney A. F. Bray Jr., counsel for Mrs. Brown, this week charged that although the county has rejected Mrs. Brown's gift, the county health department has displayed in libraries a folder of pro-fluoridation material.

The library's book selection, last August rejected the gift books on the basis that "the content is known to be false or falsely represented and the subject is not recognized by reputable scientific authority."

"If these publications were as inaccurate as hinted," Bray wrote this week, "it would seem logical that legal action would have been taken against them long ago. To date there has been no notice of such notice of such action."

He said he felt the books should be accepted to give readers both sides of the flouridation issue.

In response to the written compaint submitted to the supervisors, Mrs. Bertha D. Hellum, county librarian, stated that the books were declined because treatment of the subject matter was not in accord with the library's book selection policy adopted by the supervisors in March, 1955.

The book selection committee, composed of nine librarians who meet with Mrs. Hellum to select books for adding to the county library book collection, recommended that these books be rejected.

Printed materials containing arguments both for and against fluoridation are available in the county library's holdings, according to Mrs. Hellum, and the library takes no posiiton on either side of the controversy.

Baldwin Seeks Reelection To United States Congress

Congressman John F. Baldwin of Martinez today announced that he will be a candidate for re-election to the position of Representative in Congress for the California Sixth District, which comprises Contra Costa and Solano Counties.

Baldwin was elected to the House of Representatives in 1954 and is now completing his second term in office.

His service in Congress has been marked by numerous accomplishments, said a spokesman. He has built up seniority on th important House Public Works Committee, on which he has served for four years, and will become the ranking Californian on that Committee next year.

He likewise serves on the Roads Subcommittee and Flood Control Subcommittee, being the sole representative of the three far western states on the Roads Subcommittee. As a member of this subcommittee, Baldwin contributed an important part in the passage of the Federal Interstate Highway Act in 1956. In October, 1957, when the House Works Committee held a statewide highway hearing in California, the Committee held the hearing in Baldwin's home community of Martinez. On that occasion, Acting Committee Chairman Frank Smith (Democrat), of Mississippi, stated, "I would like the record to show the appreciation of the members of the Committee of the valuable service Mr. Baldwin has given the Committee in the three years he has served."

Baldwin led a successful fight in 1956 to increase by 33⅓ per cent the authorization of funds for national park roads and trails. He also led a successful fight in 1955 to re-establish appropriations for the four State Maritime Academies, including the California State Maritime Academy at Vallejo.

In 1957, he spearheaded a successful effort to obtain the first loan contract in the country for the Solano Irrigation District, under a new law, so that Bureau of Reclamation funds could be made available to that district on a loan basis for the construction of the irrigation distribution system for the Solano Project.

During Baldwin's two terms, Mare Island Naval Shipyard in Vallejo has assumed nationwide leadership in the construction of atomic submarines. Baldwin has actively assisted in obtaining the assignment of five atomic submarines to this shipyard for construction.

He has supported Federal postal and classified employees pay raises, increased compensation for disabled veterans, and continuation of Federal aid to school districts in areas where Federal installations are located. He has supported the Social Security program and voted to lower the age at which women and disabled people could qualify for social security benefits. He has worked for improved annuities for retired Federal Civil Service employees. He has consistently fought for adequate funds for national defense.

During Congressional recesses Baldwin has devoted his complete attention and time to the problems of his district, holding office hours in city halls throughCounties. He has devoted many hours to solving individual Federal problems for constituents.

Baldwin is married. He and his wife, Mary, have three daughters, aged 11, 5, and 3.

Camellia Show in Walnut Creek to Draw Thousands

Committee members of the Northern California Camellia Society are busy planning for the 13th Annual Camellia Show to be held at the Walnut Creek Recreation Center on March 15 and 16.

The annual event will be a repeat performance for Walnut Creek, after the 1957 show here which attracted exhibits of over 10,000 blooms and some 5000 visitors.

John Beers, society president, stated today that plans call for the building to be filled with camellia exhibits of individuals, garden clubs and commercial firms.

Several outdoor exhibits will be located immediately in front of the building.

Beers, a Walnut Creek resident, announced that Walter Peterson and Charles Jenson, both of Richmond, are 1958 show chairman and assistant show chairman, respectively.

The Northern California group is cooperating with the Walnut Creek Area Chamber of Commerce in the annual floral "extravaganza."

Information on entries, judging, classes and scheduling is available at the chamber business office, 1640 North Main Street.

Mrs. Constance Hansen of Lafayette, arrangements chairman, stated today that 21 classes in non-competitive floral arrangements will feature the show.

Theme of the flower arrangements class will be "Camellias at Home and Abroad."

There will also be five divisions of competitive amateur exhibits in the building, enabling hobbyists who grow camellias without the assistance of professional full time gardeners to show their blooms.

The sponsoring group is one of the oldest camellia societies in the state. Committee chairmen for the 13th annual show represent the cities of Oakland, Berkeley, Richmond, San Lorenzo, Belmont, Alameda, Castro Valley, Walnut Creek, Lafayette, Orinda, Concord, Antioch and Redwood ...

Roy Mangini to Run for Acalanes District Trustee

Roy J. Mangini, 33, former high school teacher, announced today his candidacy for Acalanes High School District trustee.

Mangini, 686 Los Palos Drive, Lafayette, is an insurance underwriter, listed school economics, teacher - administration relations and high level procurement, as well as a balanced curriculum as his main interests in making his announcement.

MANGINI WAS employed at McClymonds High School in Oakland for five years as a physical instruction educator, football and track coach. Raised in Oakland, he attended Oakland Technical High School, San Jose State and the University of California.

He holds a bachelor of arts degree with secondary teaching credentials.

He served in the United States Air Force as bombardier in multi-engine aircraft.

Living in the Lafayette area for over four years, he noted that he has become aware of the "big business" aspects of the Acalanes district and with his past experience in both teaching and management, "I hope to be able to really serve the residents of the district on the board."

"NOT ONLY am I aware of the growing school problems in the district, but I also have two children in the Lafayette School District," he continued. "I intend, if elected, to do my utmost so that all the children of our growing area will be afforded the opportunity of having the very best teachers and facilities available during their high school years," Mangini commented.

"Every year we see our tax bills mounting and now is the time to insure that every cent that is spent in our schools is well spent," Mangini said.

"I have observed the purchasing procedures of the district very closely in the past years and feel certain that some additional steps for economy may be taken. I intend to do my best along these lines," stated Mangini.

Acalanes District has a nationwide reputation for its teachers. A casual glance at their records will show that they are among the best in the nation. We must continue to procure the very best teachers from all parts of the country as our district grows larger and more high schools are built," he exclaimed.

"THERE IS ONLY one way to insure our children of a good education and that is to continue to obtain the high level of teachers in tis district."

In making his statements, Mangini insisted that the public should continue to get full use of the district's schools and facilities. "The public pays for them and the public should have full use of them whenever possible."

Maningi is running for one of two seats which will be contested on the board of trustees May 20. He filed his intention of candidcy with the superintendent of school's office in Martinez.

He is a member of Burton Parent-Teachers Association, Glenside Improvement Association, and Eagles Lodge 7.

Judge Fraga Will Seek Election; States Views

Superior Judge Thomas F. Fraga, who was appointed last September to the newly created Sixth Department, Contra Costa Superior Court, this week filed his intention to run for election in the June 3 state primary.

Judge Fraga is a native and lifelong resident of Martinez, where he has practiced law since 1936.

He was advanced to the Superior Court bench by Governor Goodwin J. Knight after serving for five years as Martinez Judicial District judge.

PREVIOUSLY, he had served for 20 years as Martinez city treasurer, and for three years was a deputy district attorney under Francis P. Healey. He acted as adviser to the board of supervisors and to various county departments an handled much of the office's prosecutions.

"As a lawyer, a deputy district attorney and as a judge, I have held unswervingly, that the law should be applied equally to all persons, regardless of station," Fraga said.

"And it is upon my pledge of continuing to administer justice on this basis that I am asking for the support of fair-minded citizens.

"I believe that I am qualified to sit as a Superior Court judge by experience, educational background, honesty and a respect for the dignity of every citizen as an individual.

"Further, I feel that there is no higher honor than to serve my county in a judicial capacity," he added.

JUDGE FRAGA, 49, is married and the father of six children, the eldest 21, and the youngest three.

His parents, the late Anthony and Philomena Fraga, came to Contra Costa County more than 70 years ago. He was educated in Martinez schools and received his law degree from Hastings College of Law in 1936, completing his studies in three years as a special student.

Judge Fraga has been in Boy Scout work for 36 years.

He has served as a scoutmaster, district chairman, and since 1942 has been a member of the executive board of the Mt. Diablo Boy Scout Council. He is also a merit badge counselor and has served on many Eagle Scout Boards of Review.

Betsy F. Rahn Files for WC District Judge

Betsy FitzGerald Rahn, Walnut Creek attorney, filed her notice of intention of candidacy for Judge of the Walnut Creek Judicial District on Monday.

Mrs. Raln made a policy statement to the press in which she stated:

"The office of Judge of the Walnut Creek Judicial District should be a full time position. If I am elected as judge, I will withdraw from private practice and devote my full time to the office. A judge's position should be an impartial and non-partisan one and it is impractical to carry on a law practice, in which you represent your clients on a highly partisan basis, and assume the judicial role of impartiality at the same time."

"It should be brought to the attention of the voters that the probabilities are that the court of the Walnut Creek Judicial District will become a municipal court in the near future. Accordingly, any candidate for the office should be both qualified and ready to serve in the capacity of a judge of a municipal court when the time comes."

Easter Seal Campaign to Begin Next Thursday

Three community leaders are regional chairmen of the 1958 Easter Seal Campaign in Contra Costa County, according to Mrs. G. W. Luhr, president of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Contra Costa County.

The appeal for funds to help crippled children starts on Thursday and ends on Easter Sunday.

Edward Munns of Concord is regional chairman for Eastern Contra Costa County and general chairman for the Easter Seal Campaign. Mrs. Allen Jones of Danville is regional chairman for Central Contra Costa County, and Mrs. Lloyd Dicely of Richmond heads the campaign in Western Contra Costa County.

About 60,000 citizens who are serving as Easter Seal chairmen are active on volunteer Boards of Directors and Committees for the 16,655 Easter Seal Societies throughout the Nation.

Munns is president of the Contra Costa County Park and Recreation Council, and is chairman of the Advisory Committee for Nature Conservary.

Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Dicely both served Boy Scouts of America through having been Den Mothers in Cub Scouts in their respective communities.

Both are active in church work. Mrs. Jones is secretary to the pastor of Danville Community Presbyterian Church, and Mrs. Dicely is a member of Y.L.I. Mother of Help Institute No. 159 of El Cerrito, and is vice president of St. Mary's Mothers Club. Mrs. Jones has served the Red Cross as a Grey Lady at Camp Park; Mrs. Dicely, a registered nurse has given Red Cross courses in Nurses Aid.

Jewish Services

Friday evening services will be held tonight at the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center, 3800 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, starting at 8:30 p.m. Dr. H. Hirsch Cohen, the Rabbi of the congregation, will conduct the service and preach the sermon.

The candle lighting and blessing of the wine will be under the direction of the Center religious chairman, Fred Katzberg of Walnut Creek. The oneg shabat, a reception for the Sabbath, will be under the direction of Mrs. Fred Katzberg of Walnut Creek, League of Jewish Women Sisterhood oneg shabat chairman.

Taxpayer Associations Eye Schools

Improvement of the education program is he goal of the County Taxpayers Association and its affiliate, the Acalanes Taxpayers Association.

The Acalanes group recently decided to recommend that a citizens committee e formed to "consider the feasibility of an all-vear, or four-quarter school system in the elementary and high school districts."

Their recommendation went in letter-form to the trustees of the Acalanes High School District and trustees of the five elementary school districts within the high school district.

The Association also recommented that the committee study other possible economies in the operation, maintenance and construction of schools in the area.

Economy is also the prime consideration of the parent group, the County Taxpayer's Association, which made eight recommendations, as follows:

1. Examine the non-teaching positions provided in the junior and senior high schools to determine if all are producing.
2. Special classes for handicapped children often run small, thus increasing the normal costs of instruction. Joint district operation should be considered.
3. Every school system should carry on a proper amount of experimentation in curriculum and instruction, to determine maximum effectiveness.
4. The proper length of the school day for children must continue to be studied.
5. At the secondary level the effectiveness of the length of the class period needs to be studied.
6. School sites should be held to a practical size.
7. Schools must study the maximum practical use of books and other equipment to keep such costs to a practical figure.
8. School administration must eliminate inefficient teachers.

Said the Association newsletter: "School administration, just as business and industry, must constantly judge the efficiency of its operation and the effectiveness of its product.

"Services and procedures which don't pay off should be dropped. We recognize that it calls for intensive research on the job to make such evaluations and to reach such decisions.

"There is no evident formula for economy in these areas, the efficiency within the area being dependent upon local conditions. It is not to say that we are wasting school funds in any one of these areas, but rather to say that they are inviting to the efficient school administrator."

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

Ahoy there! . . . ahoy!

DURING THE WK'S wild windlashings, someone popped into the Post Office w/word that four pine trees in the Pine Grove appeared to be blowing over all at once. Someone standing in line lifted an eyebrow w/"Sure it was the Wind & not a Bulldozer?" to which another mail w/mail added "Well, we didn't want PIE so now they're going to try to stuff us w/CAKE!"

During the drownpour, four newsstands in front of Amer. Trust toppled over like Tin Soldiers in a precision routine! Ten yr. old Tod Neuenschwander whose family's house has been threatened by a Mountain of Mud has made $2.50 so far by charging his friends a small fee to see the damage & danger closer at hand. (Daddy will need it, Dear!)

Another enterprising Orinda School 4th grader flaunting an interesting bit of fur, said he bought it for 10 cents from some other fella (who'd got it off his mater's mink) and was already on the road to success by charging his envious pals a penny just to hold it for a few minutes! After all, Mink IS Mink!

TUTU TALK . . . One of our Budding Ballerinas whirled across the living room floor announcing to the family she was doing the "On To Chicago!" Her mother suspecting some chorus step was soon straightened out by the dance teacher Win Gilmore who translated into terms terpsichorean—the "Entre Cha Quatre"!

ONE-TWO-THREE KICK! Radio City Rockettes & CanCan Girls will come to life onstage at the Claremont tonight during the Follies at the Jr. League's DAZE OF GOLD bang-up & black-tie affair. Among localites who'll frolic behind the footlight shaving polished up their fancy footwork during a dizzy wk. of rehearsals are Liz & Norm Cunningham, Carol & Bill Platt, Joanne & Dave Brunson, Sis & Jeff Larkin and Jack & Renee Dana of Laf. As for the Ladies' Lineup, we wouldn't be surprised if Fran Leavitt, Carolyn Havre, Cynthia Stampley and Barbara Wells of Laf. are reviewing their routines this very moment!

Between the deadline and deep blue sea

TEE VEE TALK . . . A recent local survey revealed that some of the youngsters in our area watch as much as 40-plus hrs. of TV a wk. Figure THAT out!

TEE HEE TALK . . . One of our busiest young mothers scolded her son for almost a wk. because one-half of his pr. of shoes was missing. (How CAN kids lose such things anyhow!) At wk's end she noticed something peculiar in the refrigerator, and it WASN'T a leftover roast, but her boy's leather brogue and how it got in there she'll NEVER know! But we ALL do those things! Like the mother who bought a jar of silver polish, emptied it out w/her groceries, looked Hi & Lo the next day when she wanted it, couldn't find it ANYPLACE so bought another jar of same polish on her next trip to the store. And when she wanted THAT one, she couldn't find it either & practically tore the kitchen apart! A few days later, there they were, BOTH jars, Big as Life, on the refrigerator shelf and looking confusingly like—wanna guess?—a couple of jars of herrings in sour cream! Same size jar, y'know!?!

TEPEE TALK . . . Over on Acacia Dr. the new Carol Franklin born Feb. 17 has inaugurated a new curriculum in the Frank Newman household, being the fourth child for Frank (Prof. of Law) and his wife Frances, who is active on the School Curriculum committee.

Another fourth child—at the Dos Encinas menage of the Hank Wrights who about a month ago welcomed a FIRST GIRL and gave her the pretty name of Shauna . . . The Myron Goods of El Toyonal expect a miniature May Queen or King, their second, and Nancy & Vince Anzilotti will welcome a third child in March! Dorothy Barden who is soon to become a Grandmother is cutting, of ALL things, a Wisdom Tooth! Blake & oan Calder of Vista Del Moraga became first-itime parents on Feb. 7 w/the arrival of Jeffrey Thomas, new Lilliputian Leaguer whose maternal grandparents are the E. L. Hedemarks of El Caminito.

Something to read while marooned . . .

FROSTED BLUE BOWKNOTTED BOOTIES, individual cakes baked by Helen Drews, drew as many Oh's & Oggles as the pretty gifts bestowed on Jan Ward, Claire Ward's dghtr. in law at a recent shower co-hostessed by Ann Sanford & Lucy Hupp at the former's home on Hac. Circle. The Jim Hupps, by the way, were among the many families of the Orinda Community Church who enjoyed the annual Family Retreat last wknd. to Zephyr Pt., Lake Tahoe. Others in the Snow-fun crowd that side-tripped to Heavenly Valley & other parts of the vast eRno Ski Bowl under the leadership of Muriel James & Dorothy Hall were the Andrew Hartanovs, John Ogdens, Marian Nelson & her brother Ben Selm, the Bill Branches, Jack Biersdorf, the Harry Nollers, Jack Whinnerys, Bert Coronas, etc., some seventy in all!

NO FOOLING! The Alan Giellerups (Emmarie Gibbs) are pacing the floor over their First Edition. But THIS one's due on YOUR doorstep, April 1, w/ a snooty little fellow, a monocled devil drawn by Bion Atkinson, to decorate the pgs. of their new "Diablo View" mag!

Thought while voting . . . We have the (1) floating Florence Nightingale, (nurse & health consultant) for children enrolled in the 5 schools of the Orinda Union School District. Why not at least a nurse for each SIDE of Orinda since it's THAT far from one school to another!?

CATCH AS CATCH CAN . . . Last wk. Miss Sheila Maloney, Orinda teacher (& dghtr. of Emile Maloney, V.P. of PacTel&Tel) was OUT WITH MUMPS . . . Swollen glands, sore swallows & Scarleteena putting a crimp on class rollcall. Madeline & Cliff Benjamin are happy people having young Kent FINALLY home from Children's Hosp. after a choking fright that necessitated an emergency Tracheotomy. But they're still not back to Norm for their other young son im has been down w/MUMPS & now Kent's due too! Dugey Bray, young son of the Bill Brays, was back at school this w. after being hospitalized w/head & jaw injuries sustained from a tree fallout!

TRAVEL EYETEMS . . . Bill Lincoln flew in Sun. nite, a sight for some twelve eyes belonging to his six children, after a flight for PanAm (he's Flight Engr.) that took him to Paris for a wk. which is WHY he missed the couple's annvy. Feb. 19. But he made up for it, bringing Barbara a 2 oz. gift bottle of Lanvin parfum, which w/five girls in the family, she's probably keeping under lock & key!

Miramonte Mirror

By SALLIE DE WITT

Last Thursday, February 20, the telephone company put on an assembly before the Miramonte student body. They told of the evolution of sound from the first telephone and the first victrola with its "morning glory" horn to hi-fi and stereophonic sound.

The yearbook class is really working hard. They have been taking pictures every noon of the various clubs, Math Club, Art Club, etc. According to Mr. Mack, the Mirada should be much better than last year's.

This Wednesday, the schedule will again include an assembly with Dr. Hilderbrand from U. C. speaking on some phases of science and giving demonstrations. Later that afternoon, he will speak to the Ski Club on skiing. Dr. Hilderbrand was, at one time, coach for the U.S. Olympic Ski Team.

Registration for next year's courses is in full swing as, each day, students receive passes to see their counselors about their schedule for the new year. Required courses for freshmen are English I, Social Studies; for Sophomores, English II; for junfor seniors, Senior Problems, including Civics. All four classes must take P.E.

Many Miramonte students are looking forward to the Country Club Dance, sponsored by the Orinda Mothers Club, held tonight, February 28.

These seventh grade "baby sitters" presided at their regular meeting place, 105 Meadow Lane, the residence of Mrs. Claude Maehler, assistant leader of Troop 12. As Mrs. Maehler attended her daughter Lorie's Court of Awards, Mrs. Eugene Palmer assisted Mrs. Wencel E. Smith, leader.

Gas Prices Nose Upward Another Cent

Apparently by unanimous consent, East Bay gas stations nudged their prices up a cent a gallon Thursday, bringing prevailing prices to 27.9 cents a gallon for regular, 32.9 for premium.

Thursday's across-the-board increase was the only boost noted over the past week. Prices at the end of this week, however, were approximately seven cents a gallon higher than they were about three weeks ago when the gas war hit its peak.

Two weeks ago most station owners boosted prices a cent a gallon and last week marked an overall increase of about five cents more.

A Walnut Creek operator, who raised his prices Thursday, said that he still forecast that the gas war would continue for some time. "Whenever the oil companies want to end it they will," he said. Prevailing opinion as to the cause of the war was a reported surplus of gasoline.

A Lafayette station manager said he and other Lafayette operators also boosted their prices Thursday, bringing the level up to 27.9 and 32.9. He said he had "no idea" as to how much longer the price war would continue.

As to why the penny raise came about, he commented, "I don't know what in the dickens they do upstairs."

In Orinda, prevailing prices were still at last week's level—26.9 and 31.9. However, Orinda operators noted that one station had already tacked a cent a gallon increase onto his prices Thursday morning.

As to the increase, one operator said, "I expect it to come any minute, although I haven't heard from my company as yet."

It was the concensus among Orinda operators that the cent a gallon hike was due any time Thursday.

Capt. Neller In Exercise

Army Capt. Herbert F. Neller Jr., whose parents live at 3336 Moraga Blvd., Lafayette, recently participated in "Sabre Hawk", a Seventh Army maneuver involving more than 100,000 troops in Germany.

The maneuver, resigned to test the combat readiness of Seventh Army units, was the largest winter exercise ever held in Germany.

Assistant commander of VII Corps headquarters, Captain Neller entered the Army in 1943. He arrived in Europe for this tour of duty last September and holds the Bronze Star Medal among his decorations.

The captain, a graduate of Acalanes Union High School, is a 1950 graduate of the University of California in Berkeley. His wife, Lilletta, is with him in Germany.

An Open Letter to Transit District Board

To the members of the Board of Directors, Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District.

Gentlemen:

It has been stated that the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District will ask voters in its area to approve a bond issue in November. It has also been stated that the purpose of the bond issue will be to provide funds for the purchase of Key System lines, buses, and equipment.

It has long been obvious to residents of this area that an eventual solution to the Key System problem would have to be provided. Certainly the crippling strikes that have hit the Bay Area in the past must be avoided in the future.

It also seems logical that the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District is the logical body to negotiate for the purchase of Key System. Such a move would be of immense benefit to the communities on the East Shore of the Bay in Alameda County.

It also seems logical that such a move might be of real benefit to some portions of Contra Costa County, including Richmond.

But there will be very little benefit to the vast majority of residents of Central Contra Costa County, including Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Alamo, Pleasant Hill and neighboring communities.

Certainly the benefit to these areas areas will be in no proportion to the cost.

THE ONLY EQUITABLE solution, gentlemen, would be for you, as a board, to exclude this portion of Central Contra Costa County from the bond issue, funds from which will go toward the purchase of Key System.

Such a motion of intention, taken immediately on your part, would be a real demonstration of your good faith with the people of this area.

The mechanics of setting up boundaries for the bond issue should not be too complicated, and might operate along the lines of a special service district.

Surely such action on your part would be met with hearty approval by the voters and residents of Central Contra Costa County.

After all, it is not fair to expect the residents of this area to pay the bill for something which will give them very little benefit.

In return, this area would not expect the residents of Alameda County to foot a major portion of the bill for millions of dollars worth of rapid transit facilities in Central Contra Costa County.

You have stated that it is the eventual aim of your body to provide rapid transit facilities in Central Contra Costa County. When that time comes, we will have to investigate the situation and the financing.

BUT IN THE MEANTIME, please do not include Central Contra Costa in your plans for the coming bond issue to purchase Key System. It would be eminently unfair.

In return, we will pay our way when the time comes for rapid transit in our area.

Again, we ask you to consider an immediate vote of intention on this matter.

We will be awaiting your action with interest.

If I Weren't the Editor, I Couldn't Do This

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

"Well, boss," said Snoopy, the office cat, "are you going to put your own picture in the paper again today?"

Drop dead, Snoop. You know I'm a paragon of modesty.

"Boy, you surely are modest," Snoopy purred, with a sarcastic purr. "A month ago your picture was printed—presenting the Man of the Year award. And last week you have another Big Wheel Picture—Governor Knight presenting you with a first place state award for Outstanding Community Service. Boy, I wish I were editor!"

Governor and Friends

Snoopy, I'd toss you out of the office upon your nasty head—except perhaps you're right. In fact, I know you're right—'cause today I'm going to do something I said I would never do—publish a picture of the cutest, sweetest, most intelligent children in the world—my kids.

And if I weren't editor, I couldn't print this picture. But my good wife Eleanor, my mother and mother-inlaw will be interested. After the Governor presented the plaques and trophies to us, he made quite a fuss over the kids and demanded to be posed with them. Of course we resisted heartily. Here is the picture — Governor Knight and, left to right, Mark, Janet and Dan.

Do Teachers Know Enough?

By Norman Colby

Dr. Edward Teller's talk before central county residents two weeks ago was well received and much applauded, but there were scattered frowns in the audience, some of them belonging to area teachers.

One of Teller's main points was that America's elementary and high school science teachers don't know enough about their subjects, and they engender too much academic perspiration learning how to teach, rather than what to teach.

Getting young people interested at an early age in the subject which best fits their abilities is a primary goal, Teller said.

"I don't care how the teachers do it," he said.

There is a desperate need to remedy educational short comings in order to keep up with Russia in the cold war, he added.

Commented one teacher, "He tells us that the 'how' of teaching is not so important, but in the next breath, he say that arousing interest in the students is vital. But isn't the 'how' of teaching mostly a study of encouraging and developing interest?"

Said another teacher, "He proposes replacing our English language as we know it with a basic English. But isn't the richness of our language due to its shades of meaning, and isn't our literature built on this?"

Said a third teacher, "Dr. Teller said that the most important thing is getting more young people scientific minded, and surpassing Russia in the race to build new machines. I would say that a more important goal of our education is learning to understand ourselves, and then learning to understand other people and how to live with them in peace."

This is the City--Chevy City And I Carry a Loaded Brand

By PAT PENDING

This is the city. Chevrolet City. I live here. I carry a brand—Ancient Age!

Well, Heroin (the heroine) just won't marry anyone but Artie Choke even though she wants a double wedding (is she going to get fooled!) so Elvis Parsley starts twanging his guitar and singing the "Wedding March" adequately accompanied by the two Singer sewing machines.

ELVIS IS also rotating his elvis and, unknown to everybody, this is causing a big disturbance in the atmosphere.

The Loan Arranger is again pressed into service to perform the marriage ceremony and, just as he asks Heroin if she takes Artie for her lawful wedded husband, a horse whinnies. Now, the Loan Arranger's mask has slipped and he can't see good so he, inadvertently, marries Artie to the horse! Now Artie will be really nagged all his life!

Elvis Parsley has swung his hips around so fast that he has created a vacuum; a whirlwind is formed by the suction and a big tumbleweed comes screaming through the swinging doors of the Short Stem Saloon. The tumbleweed engulfs Parsley and his guitar which both back through the swinging doors and clear out of Costa Costa county!

The Loan Arranger suddenly remembers that his Indian companion is missing and he needs a buck. "Why 'at urp?" is totally exhausted from hoe-ing down tumbleweeds; Wild Bill Hiccup is away somewhere waiting for Sid Seizure to show (he likes hot chocolate and intends to relieve Seizure of his cocoa).

EGAD! EVEN RINTY isn't around to help Mutt, and Chess Turr seems to be in a state of shock as he finally realizes that Heroin is still single. Mutt Dullon wishes faithful Rinty had been faithful.

Mutt's always liked dogs—in fact he wants a Chesapeake Bay retriever. He figures if he has Chesapeake Bay in his backyard he can get along without using California Water Company water and so save enough money to keep him in his old age.

AND NOW, it so happens that the train's brakes are shot and it would have gone right past Chevrolet City if Lassie hadn't come home just as the train approached the station; jumped through the window and throttled the engine!

Nothing can save Mutt now! He must go out on that street and meet the villain! Shy Anne tries to tell Mutt it's his weddin' day and it's high noon and high time! Mutt won't listen to her. He takes out his six shooter to see if he has any bullets because he has to make every shot count now that he's married. He can't afford to buy many bullets and support a wife too (don't forget, he's living in Costa Costa county!)

SO, MUTT GOES bravely out through the swinging doors of the Short Stem and starts walking slowly up the street. All the characters follow him out (except the horses, who are still inside the Short Stem tied to the hitchrail.)

As he walks up the street to meet the villain, Mutt thinks of many things. Has he paid the last payment on his six shooter? Where will the tumbleweed leave Elvis Parsley?

Then he sees the villain striding down the street to meet him!

Oh boy! Wait'll next week!

DISCRIMINATION

Dear Editor:

I know an American-born Japanese family - which is not so very difficult in our Country or for that matter in our town.

The girl is a high school graduate and a devoted daughter and wife. Both she and her husband are hard working people, and all they ask out of life is a living, for which they are happy to work hard, and a decent home.

The answer when wanting to buy a home is the same from all—quote, "Orientals living in the neighborhood would make our property values go down."

I love my home, and we too have worked hard for it, and we wouldn't want our property value to go down. But would it? I don't know the answer but I do know this Japanese family would make good neighbors and I doubt the value of land would go down.

This young man is a World War II veteran, he enlisted from California, which is his native state, and fought from the beginning to the end of the war.

We are not at war now or are we? Perhaps at war with ourselves?

I happen to value friendship; I happen to like people, whether they be born here in the United States or in a foreign country. Why can't we allow these American citizens to buy what they can afford what they want and where they want?

CONGRATULATIONS

Dear Editor:

It is a sincere pleasure for me to offer my "official" congratulations to you and your staff for your most recent awards from the California Newspaper Publishers' Association.

All of us locally are well aware of the very fine job the Sun is doing for our community, and I am certain that my written words are only a small expression of the collective "thrill" which the community as a whole receives when you are so richly rewarded by your fellow newspaperman on the state level.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

I would like to call your attention to the urgency of correcting a serious deficiency in the Walnut Creek-Orinda Freeway. Of course what is most needed is construction of the interchange at Upper Happy Valley Road and full freeway between Lafayette and Orinda.

As this full program appears to be some years off, the bottleneck would be considerably alleviated by constructing a third lane uphill, as has proved so successful from Orinda to the Tunnel.

The third lane should commence at the merger of the local Lafayette feeder with the main highway and continue over the grade crest.

THERE ARE AT least five causes for the every-morning jamming of this stretch between 7 and 8:30 a.m., or longer. First, the inevitable heavily loaded truck and trailer, creeping up the grade. Such hauling should be re-scheduled either earlier or later.

Second the fully packed buses, stopping to load at the foot of the hill, and never able to attain speed on the upgrade. The third lane would help this immeasureably. Also the frequent attempt of one bus to inch past another, thus stalling both lanes, should be ended.

Third, heavy entering traffic from Upper Happy Valley Road. This traffic would not be nearly as heavy if it were not for the wise guys who swing off the freeway, speed thru the residential section, then crowd back in at Upper Happy Valley Road.

This turnoff from the freeway should be closed between 7 and 9 a.m. Or, Upper Happy Valley Road could be made one way, off highway only, with access to the highway allowed only at the road from Lafayette.

FOURTH, LIGHT traffic from Hidden Valley on the south, attempting to dart across two lanes of eastbound traffic and force into the fast lane of westbound traffic. This traffic should be restricted to a right turn only, toward Lafayette, to loop around under the freeway and enter on the road from Lafayette.

Fifth, the heavy traffic from Lafayette attempting to merge right at the end of the freeway. This merger cannot be made smoothly since the highway is already jammed from the four causes listed above. The third lane starting at this merger point would be of great value.

The entry from Charles Hill Road should be mentioned. Here again right turns only should be allowed, at least between 7 and 9 a.m. Although an extra mile to loop back at Orinda would be necessary for the few desiring to travel eastbound, their increased safety would be worth it.

The hazard in attempting to cross the two heavily travelled westbound lanes is compounded by the limited sight distance over the crest of the hill.

It is hoped that some or all of the above remedial measures can be instigated at once. Several only require the posting of a sign or two and a short learning period backed up by a visible officer. The third lane is an emergency measure which should be given full-speed-ahead at once.

CHURCH vs. STATE

Dear Editor:

Mildred Spencer Gragg's letter (Jan. 31, 1958) regarding the performing of Christmas plays in the public schools points up errors of judgment on both her part and that of certain members of the school board.

1. The immediate suspicion of "subversion" when anyone dares to voice an unexpected point of view; it is, rather, this desire to stifle opposition which is the real subversion of democratic principles.

2. The comments at the meeting of the school board (Jan. 28) of one of the members to the effect that the Christmas story is something which everyone (or "almost" everyone, as she corrected herself) accepts as historically true and believes. This illustrates the unthinking presumptuousness, innocent as it may be, of so many people in assuming that everyone believes as they do.

As to whether or not the presentation of the story of the birth of Christ constitutes teaching religion, the indisputable fact remains that it commemorates a Christian holiday, and as such it imposes if it does not teach the Christian faith upon all of the students, regardless of their religious backgrounds.

The many non-Christians in this community as well as throughout the country do not presume to take school time to celebrate their holidays, which are confined to their own places of worship.

As to the reference to God in the Oath of Allegiance and on our coins, would anyone be denied an iota of his religious freedom if they were removed?

MARCH OF DIMES

Dear Editor:

Once again it gives the writer immense pleasure to express appreciation of the efforts extended by your staff in helping the cause of THE MARCH OF DIMES this year. Pictures that were run in conjunction with articles certainly made an impression on your readers of the tremendous import of this financial assist.

As you are aware, there are no paid helpers this year, all work having been accomplished with a group of wonderfull volunteers, those many workers whom we also wish to thank for their kindly help. The personal calls at homes is rewarded in meeting many recipients of the Polio Fundation aide in our own back yard, each of whom give gratefull thanks for your generous contributions.

May we inject a thought here, to each of your readers, that a small container be set aside in some convenient place, that a coin be dropped into it from change, that at the end of next collection time we will have a larger accumulation for THE MARCH of DIMES.

Believe us please, POLIO is not licked yet, it can sneak a punch right into your own home unless we follow through on all of the shots, and use every known precaution. As one lovely lady said to the writer in calling at her home, being greeted at the door standing with the aid of crutches, "WE KNOW."

HIGHWAY "BUMBLING"

Dear Editor:

Regarding the miserable highway conditions between Lafayette bypass and Oakland, the Department of Public Works has no intention of improving this wretched monument to stupid highway planning, until sometime, when in their bumbling way, they decide it should be done.

How many hundreds of thousands of dollars in wasted time, extra travel expense, fatal and near fatal accidents, will be incurred by the ones forced to travel this route before anything will be done, is apparently of secondary interest to the California Highway Commission.

Their cry of "lack of funds" has a hollow ring, since it appears that funds are available to construct secondary roads, while the highly congested main highways are constructed piecemeal. Rather than lack of funds, it would appear that lack of intelligent planning is the main obstacle in the Highway Department.

On The Lighter Side

by INA BLIESNER
YE 4-3818

On this gloomy Monday morning, as I sit watching the rain splashing into the "natural lakes" (extensive puddles, to you!) which surround the Therapy Center, it is hard to realize that yesterday's sun was almost TOO warm as it soaked through our sweaters. We had such a wonderful weekend in Pleasanton where we entertained dear friends, Alice and Dick Macke, from Visalia.

They seemed to enjoy most a visit to "Oakmead Farms" where we toured the stables and saw three and four day old colts and frisky yearlings as well as big fellows such as War Glory and Doctrine.

Saturday evening at Castlewood was delightful. There must have been at least four different dinner dances going on in as many rooms, but we managed to find a quiet corner and held our own party—with much talk of "the good old days."

And its' Orindans on the go . . .

Let's talk about some busy Orindans. Virla Krotz recently flew to Los Angeles to see friends who arrived from Australia for a Mainland vacation. Naturally, there was much entertaining for the visitors in which Virla took part.

Jean and Carl Dudley and their sons, had planned a trip to Ione this last week-end to visit former residents of Orinda and to attend the Ione "Mardi Gras"—but, as luck would have it, their younger son inconveniently swelled with the mumps, so the trip had to be cancelled.

Lois and Harold Staff and their boys made a family trip to Lake Tahoe where they enjoyed the winter sports there.

The Jim Seamans entertained with a large party the other night. Their guests were Orinda neighbors and dental associates of Jim's. On hand for the affair from out of town were Jim's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. H. Carson. The Seaman home was beautifully decorated with loads of spring blossoms and the food (entered by Marty's Gourmet House) was something to rave about.

Virginia Stafford entertained a group of her neighbors recently with a Tea at which she showed movies of her round the world trip. Last Friday evening, Marge and Erni Starkman entertained with a dinner party honoring Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Haxby who were visiting in the Bay area.

They moved to the East nearly five years ago and are now living in Westport, Connecticut. Another "ski victim" is Erni Starkman, who is still "thumping" around on a cast as a result of an ankle break.

Off we go to beautiful white snow

And, while we're on skiing (and we're STILL talking about Orinda residents)—the Bob Pridemores and son, Trent, and the Art Lundblads and sons, Kurt and Mark, took a cabin at Al Tahoe for a long and lovely week-end. Seems the sun shone ALL of the time and the skies were too blue to be true. They did all of their skiing at Heavenly Valley.

Mildred Pridemore recently entertained neighbors and friends with a bridge-luncheon. Some of her guests were Mrs. Jack Walling, Ladine Hudson, Kay Smith and Ardyce Handlery.

Have you heard the story of the "Lost Cowboys" from Charles Hill? Seems that three boys, Don Dildine, 6, Tidd Lockey, 5, and Andy Everett, 4, became fascinated by Cindy Wilford, 10, on her horse and just NATURALLY followed her as she wended her way through Charles Hill Circle and down towards Happy Valley. The Wilford girl got ahead of the boys and they became lost in the hills.

For two hours they were missing while their frantic parents searched and finally asked the Orinda Fire Department for help. At last the Lockey boy's parents discovered them trudging down the highway toward home, tired, wet and plenty fightened. What a week for the three mothers, for these same three adventurers had been passengers on the Orinda school bus that turned over!

Charming party, charming guests

Every seat was filled at the tremendously successful "Flicker" luncheon-fashion show at Castlewood. Looking as if it were a heart-shaped mirror, the huge frame at the head of the run-way through which the models stepped was antiqued and trimmed with clusters of red camellias.

On the tables had been placed frosted white branches from which hung tiny, sparling valentines. As always, when the Flickers are in command, a delicious hot lunch was served. Paul Speegle got things off to a lusty-laughing start as he presented the prizes—which, incidentally, were really worth winning. The tiny tots stole the show as usual, the rascals.

Michael Mozzetti, who must be slated for bigger things (in TV or such) "hammed it up" in fine style and got so carried away in his ivy league outfit that he brought his tennis racquet smashing down, narrowly missing Mr. Speegle's dome. Mr. S. loved it AND him.

In the adult section—cut Mrs. Betty Coleman brought down the house when she appeared in a 1920 type frock and white felt cloche, which almost cut off her vision, and pranced down the ramp—loving every moment of it.

Just a few attending were . . .

Some of the guests spotted here and there were the Mesdames James Koford (the former Midge Hayes of Lafayette, now of Oakland. Just didn't seem right not seeing her model. She looked her usual, gorgeous self in all black and a stunning mink stole, William Abbott, Fran Schowalter, Don Lipton, Bob Rich, Ernest Heuer and Albert Ratto. Ruth Oliver, who was sitting on the aisle, was style itself in a rust knit chemise, orange printed-silk cloche and ropes and ropes of "chemise beads."

Lorraine (Mrs. Richard) Olson, the Flicker president, was wearing a large-checked black and white sacque frock and white bonnet. Janet (Mrs. Richard) Lieber, who was the general chairman, looked lovely in a navy blue dress—belted in the front.

The William Nodder's son, Russell, left on the aircraft crarrier "Hancock," a week or so ago. Along on the same Pacific cruise were other young men from our area, namely Don Ball, Marty Shestek, Ray Marsh and Don Jones. Plans are that they will make stops at the Hawaiian Islands, Japan, Hong Kong, and the Philippine Islands. On hand to wave farewell were their parents and many friends.

On the preceding Sunday, Gladys and Bill Nodder entertained these Naval Air Reserve boys with a going away party. About 20 guests were invited for a buffet supper and evening of fellowship. The table was decorated in red, white and blue and the centerpiece was formd of toy ships, naval aircraft, miniature scene of the South Sea Islands.

Co-hosting a large pre-Mardi Gras party the other night were the Andrew Kritcherds, (at who's Happy Valley home guests assembled) Bill Banks and Bob Bartacks.

THE LATEST WORD in fashions will be told in tn the "Pacific Potpourri," p l a n n e d by Alpha Lambda of Omega Nu for tomorrow at the Hotel Claremont, Berkeley. Mother Mad Because Boy's Room Bulges With Brochures!

Eight-year-old Stanton J. Stanten has a hobby, as boys his age are wont to have. But Stanton's hobby is an unusual one—he collects brochures.

"This used to drive me mad, mad, mad," Mrs. Stanton I. Stanten, his mother, said. He collects brochures from hotels, restaurants, air-lines—in short, from anyone who issues them! But the worst part of it is where he keeps them—in his room. The walls are papered, the dressers are piled high, and the space under the bed is crammed full of brochures. I wouldn't mind, except that it's impossible to clean! It really drove me to distraction!"

"Well, one day I was in his room and I noticed a new brochure from MFS. So I called YEllowstone 4-4478 and what they told me sounded so good that I went right down to Minimax Food Service at 1916 East St. in Walnut Creek."

"Well, would you believe that since then I have bought all my staple groceries at distributor prices? I've saved almost 30% with MFS! I'm so thrilled I let Stanton collect whatever he wants now."

Deafness Traced To Pizza

Jimmy Johnson, 9 year old son of Joe and Julie Johnson, 167 Treetopper Lane, Lafayette, has recovered his hearing after what Dr. William Whistle, noted ear specialist, reports as an amazing medical experience.

Started While Eating

The problem first developed when the Johnsons, together with their five children, Jimmy, Jane 7, Jack 5, Jill 3, and Joe Jr. 1½, were having a family dinner at THE HUDDLE INN in Lafayette. Mrs. Johnson explained that a family pizza dinner at the HUDDLE INN is looked forward to by the children as eagerly as the Sunday rides the family takes in their Volkswagen. Mr. Johnson continued "We were splitting 3 extra large pizza. Nobody does much talking while we are eating —the others will get their share. Little Joe, Jr. is a demon for sneaking pieces away from Jane."

First Awareness

"It wasn't until the first 3 pizza were gone that we noticed anything. We asked if they wanted more and all yelled 'yes' except Jimmy. Usually he is first, yelling for Pizza Alla Dwight D. Eisenhower, generally considered the secret weapon of the NATO Nations. When Mother spoke to him in a raised voice all he said was 'Hunh?' "

Family Frightened

"We were frightened" reported Mrs. Johnson," and immediately took Jimmy (also Jane, Jack, Jill and Joe Jr.) to Dr. Whistle." Dr. Whistle continued the story. "It was immediately apparent that Jimmy couldn't hear. My first examination didn't reveal much so then I turned the lights on an actually looked into Jimmy's ear. Immediately I noted that it was full of genuine mozzerella cheese! You know how enthusiastic kids can get when they eat HUDDLE INN PIZZA with their fingers."

Story Confirmed

Marty Bryman, genial host at THE HUDDLE INN, 3654 Mt. Diablo Blvd., Lafayette, was not surprised at the story. He started to tell about the girl who turned blond before her parents eyes but we interrupted. However, Bryman insisted that parents should bring children to HUDDLE INN for an experience in eating. However, if it is easier to clean them up at home he suggests calling ATlantic 4-4185 for HUDDLE INN PIZZA - TO - GO. We left the HUDDLE INN with this question ringing in our mind, a last shot from Bryman, "Do you know that we served 162 people at a party the other night for 68c a person and had Pizza and Spaghetti left over?"

Golf, Track and Pool Sports Take Over

Hoop Circuit Ends; Outdoor Sports Beckon

Basketball rang down the curtain last Tuesday afternoon and it's spring sports if the weather man cooperates with "just a wee bit of spring weather."

That means golf, tennis, track, basketball and swimming—in fact it's the season when more take part than at any other time of the year.

The local sports picture is a full one—Acalanes track gets off to a flying start today when the Dons travel to De Anza High down Richmond way at 3:30 p.m. It will serve as a workout as well as a meet as the weather has been conducive to anything but a conditioning program.

The Don swimmers hit the water next Wednesday, March 5, when they meet Sequoia High at Redwood City. Time 3:30 p.m.

The Don baseball club opens the 1958 season on March 7 when they host El Cerrito at 3:30 p.m.

The Las Lomas baseball team open with Vallejo at the Walnut Creek diamond on Tuesday, March 11, at 3:30 p.m. while the Knight track team travels to Pittsburg for a three-way meet with the Pirates and Antioch on Friday, March 7.

The Knight swimmers have been hard at it with a windup of interclass meets today and then its dual meet competition with Hayward at Las Lomas on Wednesday, March 5, at 3:30 p.m. Another 3:30 p.m. meet finds Berkeley at Las Lomas on Friday, March 7.

The Pleasant Hill swimmers open with their first meet at the Pleasant Hill pool on Monday, March 10, at 3:30 p.m. with Alhambra High of Martinez furnishing the opposition.

Miramonte doesn't open with baseball until March 18 when they travel to Amador High at Pleasanton.

Track makes it debut on March 13 in a three-way meet with Alhambra and liberty of Brentwood at Martinez.

Pleasant Hill under a new track mentor, Bob Maguire, is holding on today, having started yesterday. There will be an intersquad meet on March 6 and 7 with the first outside competition with Las Lomas at Walnut Creek on March 14.

Baseball starts competitive play with St. Mary's High at Pleasant Hill March 5 and Alhambra at Martinez on March 10th.

Demos Plan Big Meet March 14

Right to work legislation, domestic recession, and civil rights were issues which aroused lively discussion among members of the Central Contra Costa Democrats who met recently with Democratic candidates from this area at the home of Dr. and Mrs. David H. Powellson in Saranap.

Jerry Waldie, Democratic candidate for the Sixth Assembly District and Howard Jewel, Democratic candidate for the 10th Congressional District presented an optimistic picture of Democratic chances in the coming election, and suggested means by which the local group could implement campaign efforts.

On March 14, the club will sponsor a larger meeting where the candidates will present their platforms and campaign plans to all interested Democrats in the Central Contra Costa area.

Members of the group present were Marion Powellson, president; Vera Hopkins, secretary; John Hopkins, treasurer; Robert Hurlbert, Pat and Fred Dyer-Bennet; Sally Hoff; Joy Enochian; William Higham; Ray and Rachael Feichtmeir; Walter Keller; Jewel and his campaign manager, Chuck Bosley, and Waldie.

Hearne, Williamson Latone 'Best Pole Man in State'

Spring sports have arrived and with it a bit of sunshine—the rains have hampered early conditioning work no end, but everything has its compensations.

Chances are the grass areas will be the best ever and on the whole the tracks should be fast.

New coaches find Bob Maguire taking over track duties at Pleasant Hill High, while Bob Callan, the hard working Miramonte mentor, goes from track to baseball.

THE BASKETBALL SEASON is over, but one throught struck me as I watched the final Acalanes-Las Lomas game:

"If the two schools were one, they would still be smaller than Diablo—they would really be rough in sports and that goes down the line from football to spring sports."

Could be wrong, but it's a "pleasant dream."

Clark Ransome, the Las Lomas transfer by way of Las Gatos has turned out to be a fine athlete—he was a standout in football and wound up on the hoop quint as the best scorer as well as a fine all around player.

HE IS REPORTED to be a good baseball pitcher and on what he has shown to date, a betting man would give odds that he is a standout.

He has size agility plus attitude and that's a tough combination. He could well put the Las Lomas club in position of pennant contender.

Coach Charles Eaton, Acalanes track coach, has his problems this year. With no top sprinter in sight but his club promises to go along way—at least "up."

He has three top senior pole valuters. Look at these figures:

GEORGE HEARNE has cleaned 12'4"; Dave Williamson 12'2" and Mike Latone did 12'4 in a summer meet in Burlingame.

Chances are they will be the best combination in Northern California if not in the state.

Kennel Club Show Draws Area Entries

Lafayette, Moraga, Orinda Pleasant Hill and Walnut Creek residents are among entrants in the Oakland Kennel Club's 56th anniversary dog show and obedience trial this weekend at Oakland Exposition Building.

Specialty events for boxers, St. Bernard's and shelties, the latter the largest specialty showing of Shetland sheep dogs in the nation this year, are scheduled for tomorrow.

Sponsored shows for cockers, pugs toy manchesters and beagles will be held Sunday.

Mrs. Helen Rosemont II, show superintendent, announced that all breeds will be judged in one day. This was a popular innovation at last year's show and makes it possible for more dogs to be shown, she explained.

Working, terrier and non-sporting breeds will be benched tomorrow and sporting, hound and toy breeds the following day.

Obedience trials will be held each day, and other show highlights include junior showmanship competitions, handling contests and parades of obedience title holders.

Entrants from this area include the following:

Lafayette —Mrs. Juanita Waite Howard, English springer spaniel; Mrs. and Mrs. William A. Vogt, golden retriever, and Homer and Helen Wilson, cocker spaniel.

Moraga — Maxine Watkins, two beagles.

Orinda — Joyce Evans, afghan hound; Elizabeth and John Frampton, borzoi, and Mr. and Mrs. John A. Jeffrey, afghan hound.

Pleasant Hill — Marjorie and Charlotte Brooks, dachshund, and Richard J. and Laverne Korevec, cocker spaniel.

Walnut Creek — Lawrence and Geraldine Green, German shorthair pointer; Kimberley T. Hall and Joan Thompson, afghan hound; John S. and Evelyn J. Shepard, two cocker spaniels, and Joseph R. and Marty Werning, afghan hound.

Two Lafayette Netmen Honored

Central Contra Costa County archery club, the Diablo Bowmen, has been keeping active with indoor events during the recent bad weather.

Archers who will receive medals for the February indoor tournament at the Thursday, February 27 meeting are Bill Keefauver of Lafayette, champion; Frank Buchanan of Lafayette, Class A; Tom Thompson of Concord, class B; Jerry Clouse of Concord, class C; Otis Orme of Martinez, class D; Jan Baker of Walnut Creek, women's class B; Joyce Minor of Concord, women's class C, and Syd Smith of Concord, Junior Class. Clouse was also the handicap winner.

PASSENGER CARS

NOW THAT BASKETBALL season is over, many of the players won't even have a chance to get out of their hoop gear before coaches nab them for track practice. Dons Maul Cats For Final Two

The Acalanes basketball teams wound up their final home games for the 1957-58 season with a pair of wins.

Originally scheduled for Friday night, the games yere moved up to Thursday afternoon due to a school holiday Friday.

Originally scheduled for Friday night, the games were moved up to Thursday afternoon due to a school holiday Friday.

It proved to be a good move for the Dons as the varsity outlasted the visitors 51-47 following a 35-23 win by Coach Jack Carhart's lightweights.

The lightweight win with Don Lippert collecting 14 points and Steve Lamphere 13 assured the Don Babes of second place in final league standings.

The Don varsity took a 9-6 first quarter lead and was never headed as they posted a 22-20 halftime edge and outplayed Antioch 18-15 in the third quarter.

Antioch's league leading scorer, Dave Kirkpatrick, took individual honors with 19.

Jellett topped the Dons with 18 and Dewaine Stults was not far behind with his 17 markers.

ANIMALS

Some animals have fixed mating times so the young will be born at the time of the most abundant food supply.

Rams Bump Mats In League Finale

The Pleasant Hill Rams playing at home in the seasons' league Finale Tuesday afternoon treated the Miramonte Matadors as invadors rather than visitors and proceeded to rack up a pair of wins.

The Ram lightweights with their ace Ron Yamamoto in good working order ran up a 56-27 win with Yamamoto collecting 18 points on his own.

In the varsity game the Matadors led 9-6 the first quarter, but that was it as the Rams checked out with a 26-20 half time lead.

Miramonte was still in range as they trailed 39-30 at the end of the third quarter but never could catch up as Pleasant Hill spread the gap before inserting reserves early in the fourth quarter.

The Ram's Bill Locatelli, and the Mat's Rob Anthonisen tied for individual scoring honors. Dan Ipson had 11 for the Rams as did Bill Dutton.

Pair of Wins Ends Season For Acalanes

The Acalanes Dons wound up the hoop season in winnnig fashion Tuesday afternoon when their Bees defeated the Knight lightweights 47-39 and the varsity came through with a rush to win 60-46.

The game, played in the Las Lomas gym, found the Don Babes leading 19-14 at the half only to have the Knight pull ahead 25-22 in the third quarter.

ACALANES CAME back to score 11 points in a row and take the win paced by Gary Hansen who scored 12. Game honors went to Jim Sisler who banged in 14.

In the varsity tilt it looked like a Las Lomas win as they forged ahead to a 12-6 first quarter lead.

The Dons went on a rampage in the second quarter collecting a grand total of 24 points while the Knights collected but six to trail 30-18 at the half.

John Phair pumped in 10 points in the fatal second quarter for the Dons.

THE KNIGHTS picked up three points in the third frame as they outscored the Acalanes quint 12-9 when they took advantage of lapses in the Dons' defense and coupled it with good shooting.

Midway in the final quarter it looked like a tight finish when the Knights closed the Dons' advantage to a 40-38 count.

The Dons, using pressing tactics, and hitting nine of 11 from the charity line, pulled away although Art Dalbey did his best to pull it out of the fire for the home club. He hit 10 in the final period.

The Dons hit their 60th point in the final seconds when Morgan Jellett who played another sterling all-around game raced in for a layup. The Dons hit 21 field goals to 18 for Las Lomas.

Dalbey had 14 for the Knights while Clark Ransome hit 12.

County Drops Granting of Grade Diplomas

Contra Costa County Board of Education has abandoned the traditional role of granting diplomas to eighth grade graduates. This is due in part to the fact that as the county has become more urbanized the proportion of eighth grade graduates has dwindled, it was announced.

The board issued 1635 diplomas last June, in contrast to an eighth grade enrollment of more than 6000. Other eighth graders are enrolled in junior high schools or are students in unified or city districts that make their own arrangements for eighth grade diplomas.

Of the 24 elementary districts, 16 have been provided diplomas by the County Board of Education for the past several years. They are listed by County Superintendent B. O. Wilson as follows: Alamo, Brentwood Union, Byron Union, Canyon, Carquinez, Danville Union, Knightsen, Lafayette, Lone Tree, Moraga, Oakley Union, Orinda Union, Post Costa, Rodeo, San Ramon and Walnut Creek.

Wilson said the board's action "in no way modified the legal requirement that the districts must use the elementary course of study it establishes." Also, the district themselves may issue eighth grade diplomas if they so choose.

Knights Down Pitt 51-49 in Steelville; Pitt Babes Win

The Las Lomas Knights won the "Big One" Friday night when they dropped Pittsburg 51-49.

The charges of Coach Merrill Callow started fast and while the Pirates knotted the count late in the game, an eight point outburst put the Knights ahead to stay.

THE WIN PUT the Diablo Devils a game out in front after having been tied with the Pirates for the past two weeks. The Devils dropped the Pleasant Hill Rams 42-18.

The game, played before a packed Pittsburg gym, found the Knights leading 16-10 at the quarter and holding a seven point edge, 27-20, at the half.

Pittsburg scored 10 again in the third quarter while the Knights kept pace with 11. Pitt came back in the final canto when they tied the count at 40 all only to have the Knights net a quick eight to forge ahead and Pitt never did recover.

PITT HAD an edge in statistics in field goals, 19-16, but at the free throw line the winners hit 19 for 25 with Pitt 11 for 21.

The Knights center, Clark Ransome, was the biggest man on the floor in more ways than one. He took scoring honors with 20. Bob McDougall had 13 for the Knights. Pitt's John Nord had 17 while Al Hurtado had 13.

In the Bee tilt, Pitt cinched the championship and remained undefeated as they stormed to a 41-32 victory.

Mental Health Group To Present 'Random Target'

A preview performance of "Random Target" will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Oak Park Elementary School Multi-Purpose Room, 3108 Oak Park Boulevard, Pleasant Hill.

This is the second American Theater Wing Mental Health Play to be co-sponsored by the Central Contra Costa Mental Health Association and the Central Contra Costa Council of Church Women.

These plays have been enthusiastically hailed throughout the nation as sound, authoritative mental health education combined with fine entertainment.

The performance by the Council's Little Theater Group, under the direction of Mrs. Grace Heiges, will be followed by a discussion, to be led by one of the Association's trained leaders, Dr. E. Walton Kirk.

"Random Target" is concerned with an eleven-year-old boy's bullying behavior. Action centers around a crucial moment when the parents realize the cause of the problem.

Summer Ball Sign-Ups Set On Saturday

Sign-up applications for the Summer Baseball Program, sponsored by the Lafayette Youth Association, will be passed out at a general meeting on Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Acalanes High School gym.

All boys between the ages of 9 through 15, along with at least one or both of their parents are urged to be in attendance.

The meeting will be the only opportunity for the youngsters to pick up their application, and for all to learn of the plans for the coming season. Lou La France will conduct the meeting and tell of the financial status of the association.

At the last general meeting of coaches on Feb. 19, President Roy Middlekauff pointed out that some 500 boys were expected to participate in the program this year. He went on to say that one of the major problems would be playing fields.

Hageman Field, located at the Lafayette Grammar School, will have the assistance of the Fireman's Association of the Lafayette Fire Department in getting the grounds in shape, but the extension of the backstop may not be added this year forit was recently estimated by the school district that in order to add one section and an over-hang the cost would be in the neighborhood of $700.

Middlekauff, appointed the following committees to serve for the 1958 year. In charge of umpires: Steve Ames, Don Ingalls and Gordon McNulty. In charge of equipment: George Sutton, Brad Bradley and Roy Middlekauff. Commissioners of the leagues: Gordon McNulty, Lou La France, Charles Toll, Dave de Verona and Dale Bradley. In charge of mimeographing: Bob Barcroft and Roy Middlekauff. In charge of money raising: Vince Murphy, Peter Kosta, Gaylor Davis, Lou La France. Publicity: Gordon McNulty.

Kegler Kucera Rolls Top Game

Phyllis Kucera, Farr's TV, turned in high score in Tuesday night's Women's Handicap League bowling tourney at Monument Bowl. Her score was 191.

High series for the evening was chalked up by Ardie Harrington, Monument Catering, who rolled a 480 series, with games scores 151, 150, and 175.

Sally Kilgore, Yellow Cab, rolled a 471 series, 152, 168, 151.

Team standings remain the same from last week, with Kaye's Coffee Shop out in front by eight games.

'Waltz' Not Perfect But Still Beats Movies, TV

By FRED HILL

Last weekend the Dramateurs waltzed through the play which holds the standing record for the longest run in downtown San Francisco.

In the opening night performance, the little theater thespians managed to keep time with the music though they lacked some of the feeling for the lines which surely must have accounted in the main for the production's long run in the city.

Though the Dramateurs' production was spotty—many of the lines which could have brought down the house were "thrown away" the satiric genius of authors Jerome Chodorov and Joseph Fields sparkled through the Friday evening offering of "Anniversary Waltz." It was not difficult to understand why the comedy was such a crowd-pleaser during its sustained San Francisco run.

Executed at its best, the play might be described as a delightful evening of comedy. Performed at its worst, it would still afford a few pleasant moments. The Dramateurs performance on opening night hit somewhere in the middle. They deserve at least an "E" —for effort if not for excellence.

I believe it is important to stress the fact that the play seemed to fall short of the mark on opening night, for this writer had the feeling that the Dramateurs were testing much of the repartee foraudience effect. As often as not they missed the pitch, save in the instance of those lines which bore so much sledgehammer humor that they couldn't fail to evoke a rush of laughter.

While "Anniversary Waltz" is not a bedroom farce, it could be fairly accurately described as a living room comedy with a bedroom motif. Sex is not the lesser part of "Waltz's" theme.

As the play opens, we find Bud and Alice Waters, played by John Anton and Katie Genesy, about to celebrate their 15th wedding anniversary in their fashionable New York City diggings.

THOUGH long-married and the parents of two teen-agers, the Walters' ardor, and particularly that of Bud, has not been dimmed. An all-too-happy and idyllic celebration of the anniversary is interrupted by a number of incidents.

First television rears its one-eyed head when the Walters are given a set by Mr. Walters' doting parents. Impetuous and no viodeophile. Bud place-kicks two picture tubes before feeling at home with the magic box.

Then there is the unsurprising revelation—first by Bud after a few too many and then by his daughter over television—that the Walters had a year-long premarital frolic at the "Fernando Arms" and were in effect celebrating not their 15th anniversary but their 16th.

As tensions increase and the blissful celebration turns into a crisis, Bud airs a few views on courtship and marriage . . . "Little do you know as you stand there on the terrace with your arms around her and listen to the music of Guy Lombardo that the neighorhood diaper service is staring over your shoulder."

ALLOWING THAT one may be able to preserve the honeymoon spirit throughout marriage. Bud feels there are just too many distractions and irritations for one to keep his mind on the business at hand. Children, he feels, are U-boats whose express purpose is to torpedo ships which are sailing the sea of matrimony.

AS A HANDSOME BUD, John Anton turns in an up-to-snuff performance as the suffering male. Katie Gensey's portrayal of Alice was done with considerable feeling for the part and merits one of the gold stars for performance.

A sore spot in any casting department, I would guess, is the selection of persons to play juvenile roles. For there is probably nothing more difficult in having an adolescent play a convincing role as an adolescent.

A case in point is Steve Flint who plays Okkie, the Walters' teen-age son. Cast in a difficult part, Flint's performance is fraught with little too much histrionics and comes off as a little unnatural, although Flint himself is probably not too far removed from the age of Okkie Walters. Hester Harris, as the daughter, Debie, is considerably more satisfying in her role.

Top plaudits should go to Charlotte Chapple and Philip Stearns as Mr. and Mrs. Gans, Mrs. Walters' mother and father. The pair accounted for more than their share of the evening's laughter and walked away with both acting and comedy honors.

Absent because of personal business from the opening night was Chris Steelman who is cast in the role of Walters' business partner Cal Knickerbocker.

BRUCE WINKWORTH was summoned out to fill in on the part and did an admirable job considering the short notice and the heavy demands oof the part and the number of lines he had to carry.

As the English maid, Millie, Grace Duffy evoked her share of laughter and Betty Reynolds, as a gay divorcee, was a highlight on the comedy side.

Others in the cast are Sam Stillson, Harry, Jim Denning, Sam, and Gary Lawrence, handyman, all of whom had walkon parts in subsidiary comedy roles.

The play was directed, with considerable ability, by Carl Rasmussen, asssited by Dorothy Hanford and Helen Blankenburg.

Charlotte Chapple, who did such an excellent job in her portrayal of Mrs. Gans, also designed the expressionistic setting and was the technical director.

While, as we stated at the outset, the opening night performance left something to be desired, we feel it is only fair to note that this was a little theater production and made no pretense of being a professional offering.

OUR HAT IS OFF to all of these people who worked long and hard, on top of their regular duties as wage-earners and housewives, to do something just for the sheer joy of it. And the net result was a very pleasant evening for the theater-goers who paid the nominal admission charge.

"Waltz" plays again this evening at 8:30 and tmorrow at the sam time. By all means go, and bring your friends . . . no popcorn, no commercials, and no moer than you'd pay at the local Bijou.

Heart Fund Leader Asks Return of 'Absent' Notes

The long holiday weekend giving residents an opportunity for out of town trips, and a balmy spring-like Sunday afternoon, cut down the number of calls Heart Sunday volunteers were able to make last Sunday.

"An average of 20 per cent, and in some areas, even higher, of the families we called upon were away from their homes on Heart Sunday," Walter Ratcliff, Heart Fund chairman, reported.

"Our collections, unfortunately, did not measure up to our expectations," he said.

Undaunted, the volunteers slipped a record number of "Sorry-I-Missed-You" envelopes under unopened doors.

"Now we earnestly ask that all of our city's residents pick up their mail-in envelopes, pre-addressed to the Contra Costa County Heart Association, insert liberal contributions, and promptly drop them into the mail," Ratcliff said.

At the same time, Ratcliff expressed gratitude to the thousands of volunteers throughout the county who went out on Sunday to make their neighborly calls for funds for the Heart Association.

"I wishto extend thanks also to the area chairmen who were responsible for a splendid job of organization in recruiting captains and workers. Their work has been going on for several months and it is through their efforts that we were able to have so many volunteers ringing doorbells and calling on their neighbors," Ratcliff said.

He added: "If the residents who were not at home, will mail in contributions at the earliest possible date, we feel that we may be able to swell the proceeds from Heart Sunday by about 20 percent. In that case, we shall hope to make our quotas."

Volunteers are in the process of counting contributions at Heart Fund headquarters, 2030 North Main, Walnut Creek.

THERE'S LOTS OF ROOM in the modern new basement section of the J. C. Penney Company in Broadway Shopping Center, and the Penney people are might proud of their new, remodeled facilities. Checking over some yardage material are Mrs. Viola Riggs and Manager Clint Newell. You are invited to drop in anytime and take a look at the modern displays.—Sun Photo by Richard Morse.

Penney's Sports Event To Feature Boat, T-Bird

Penney's of the Broadway Shopping Center will have a sporty atmosphere, the next two weeks.

Clint Newell, manager, announced that a new Thunderbird sports car, provided by Rett-White Ford, and an outboard motor boat, provided by Monument Marine will be on display.

Emphasized will be sports wear for men, women and children, and especially women's and girl's coordinated sports wear, Newell said.

Four windows of sports wear will be featured, and members of the Penney's staff will be available to discuss choices.

The Penney's sports event will continue for about two weeks, said Newell.

"This is our way of emphasizing one of our strongest lines and the good buys which are offered," Newell explained.

"We know that our people are sports conscious, and the demand for sports wear is high all year round," he added."

Capwells Now Shows Chemise

Have you seen the Chemise display in Capwells, Broadway Shopping Center?

"It has been placed in front of the elevator on the second floor. Two mannikins dramatize the effect of the latest style. Block silouettes on paneling are featured," according to John Tague, store manager.

"The Chemise has been titled, 'The Outfit for '59 by stylists,' and I think you'll enjoy this display," Tague added.

Kids are Riding Merry-Go-Round

Round and round go the lucky children who are riding the merry-go-round in front of the Lucky Store in the Broadway Shopping Center.

The merry-go-round will be at Lucky for several more weeks and will then be moved to another location in Broadway.

The merchants decided that anything which will make the boys and girls happy is worth the trouble, and the merry-go-round has certainly been greeted with enthusiasm. The rides are 9 cents.

Box Ads Offer Special Prices

Note the special values that are featured on the front page of the Broadway Shopping Center edition in Sun Shopping News.

Each box presents an item with at least 20 per cent off regular price, and some of them will be much more.

A special committee of the Broadway Merchants Association has set this policy, and will be working with the stores to promote outstanding buys!

- Beginners of all ages take up the organ with success and enjoyment... even if they have had no previous keyboard training.

Betty Has Fun Discovering New Ideas in Broadway

whole family sold on getting a Hi-Fi set. I took them all down to Music Town, and let them debate over which one to pick.

They are wonderful additions to the living room appearance, and the sound quality — it sounds like the orchestra is in the same room with you!

I'M SO HAPPY about my oldest boy's musical interest. He has seen those magnificent Hammond Organs at Sherman Clay, and we decided to try Sherman Clay's Hammond rental-lesson plan.

You get a private lesson each week for seven weeks, free use of a Hammond spinet organ at home, and the payment can be applied towards the purchase of any Hammond organ, if we decide to, later.

What, you've been taking lessons on the plan? Wonderful!

My new shoes are from Kushins — the new Red-Shoe-Red style, just out. You can wear them with so many things, and they have the style and comfort I insist on.

I like to take good care of my shoes, but I wish the girls would do the same. It's just that they're active, I guess.

MY SOLUTION yesterday was to buy the oldest a pair of "Acrobat Shoes," which are the newly featured line at Grande's Shoes in Broadway.

For my youngest, I bought a pair of "Blue Bonnet" shoes, which Mr. Peterson at Grande's says is the budget line. They are both nationally advertised, and are considered among the finest in their price field.

Incidentally, my rating has really gone up in the family, since I served some delicious rainbow trout last night.

I had racked my brains trying to think of something different, and was about to give up when I saw the new seafood line in the Lucky Store.

Last week-end Lucky offered squid, swordfish, trout, and a Hawaiian delicacy called Mahi-Mahi, plus crab, halibut, sole, lobster tail and all the rest.

Well, I'd better get going. Lots to do.

If you are at Broadway tomorrow, drop over to the merry-go-round in front of Lucky's. My kids love it, and it'll be there for a month before they move it to another place in Broadway. See you later.

Downstairs Penney's is Modernized & Expanded

Completion of the remodeling of Penney's - Walnut Creek downstairs departments makes for easier shopping, Manager Clint Newell said this week.

He added that home furnishings, draperies, curtains, piece goods, boy's and girl's departments have been enlarged, and a new rear entrance will be added "to tie in with the completion of the Little Master Plan."

A celebration last week marked the completion of the work. New modern fixtures have been installed.

Newell said, "The remodeling of the downstairs is another big step in our efforts to serve the people as efficiently and conveniently as possible."

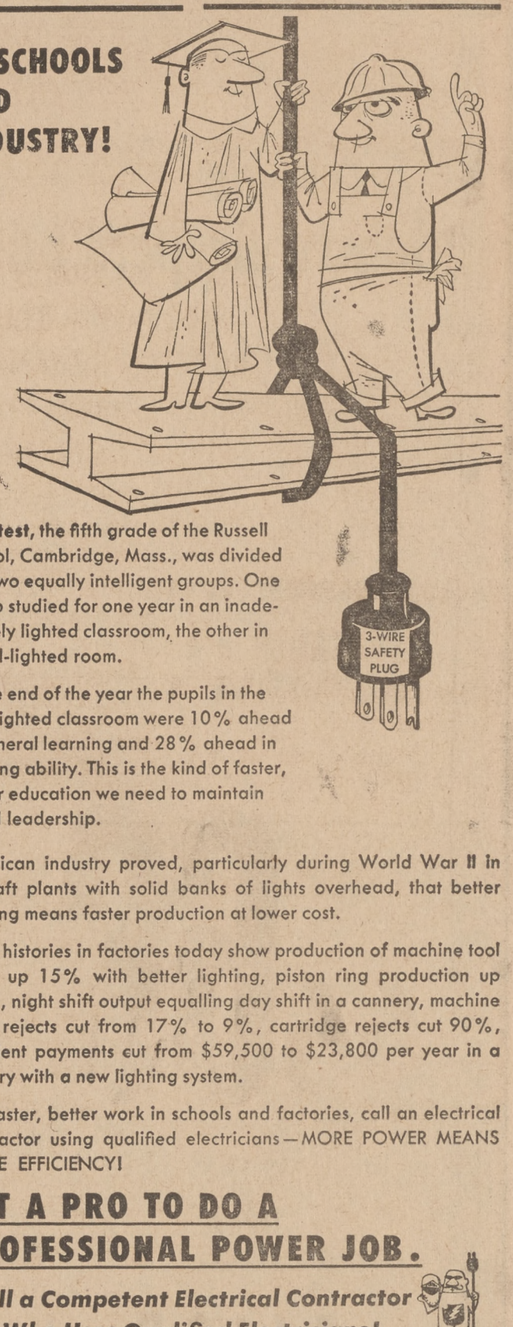
Enjoy— MORE POWER

IN SCHOOLS AND INDUSTRY!



As a test, the fifth grade of the Russell School, Cambridge, Mass., was divided into two equally intelligent groups. One group studied for one year in an inadequately lighted classroom, the other in a well-lighted room.

At the end of the year the pupils in the well-lighted classroom were 10% ahead in general learning and 28% ahead in reading ability. This is the kind of faster, better education we need to maintain world leadership.

American industry proved, particularly during World War II in aircraft plants with solid banks of lights overhead, that better lighting means faster production at lower cost.

Case histories in factories today show production of machine tool parts up 15% with better lighting, piston ring production up 25%, night shift output equalling day shift in a cannery, machine shop rejects cut from 17% to 9%, cartridge rejects cut 90%, accident payments cut from $59,500 to $23,800 per year in a factory with a new lighting system.

For faster, better work in schools and factories, call an electrical contractor using qualified electricians—MORE POWER MEANS MORE EFFICIENCY!
